1. Have you ever wondered what it would be like to serve as an ambassador to the UN?
2. Do you sometimes think teenagers might solve the world’s problems better than world leaders?

What is Model United Nations?

Model United Nations, popularly referred to as MUN, is an academic simulation of the United Nations and its various organs. In this creative simulation, participants take up the role of international diplomats & representatives of nations in various UN bodies including UNICEF, UNESCO, WHO, WTO, UN Security Council etc.

The intense colloquy, informed deliberations and negotiations culminate in many structured resolutions being voted upon by the participants, employing the same procedures and protocols as the United Nations itself. The aim of MUN is to develop universally acceptable proposals to solve some of the pressing global issues like poverty, health, energy, education, conflict, wildlife and conservation, climate change, imbalanced trade and so on. These resolutions are forwarded to the UN itself as youth opinion for active consideration for its own functioning and planning purposes.

Our Aim is to provide:

• A comprehensive knowledge about various global issues.
• An understanding of the positions and perspectives of various countries about a variety of topics.
• A creative thought process to come up with solutions to world problems.
• Skills to negotiate, articulate and market ideas.
• An ability to speak with clarity & conviction in meetings and debates.

The overall conference experience and the associated social agenda also help delegates develop a very useful global peer-network empowering them with the necessary resources to deliver their ideas in the future.
